Message from the Headteacher

I have a big "thank you" to send to everyone this month. As parents know, last Wednesday the school received a phone call from Ofsted – the government agency which inspects schools. And the next day, their inspector was in school, looking at everything we do – work books, classroom displays, and all our forms and procedures.

● Thank you: to all our children, who spoke confidently to the inspector about their school and their work.

● Thank you: to all my dedicated staff, who made sure everything was ship-shape and ready for the inspector.

● Thank you: to – last but not least – our parents who, at very short notice (that's how Ofsted works), filled out the online questionnaire and the parents the inspector spoke to in the playground. I am delighted to see that, once again, our parents have such a positive view of the school. But all your feedback is welcome, so do speak up if you can see something we can do even better.

We should have the inspection report from Ofsted soon, and I look forward to sharing it with you.

Ms Argent, Headteacher

The Family Support Team would like to inform you of our coming Coffee Mornings. They are on Thursdays, starting at 9am in the Community Room. Here's two topics we have coming up.

4th July: Summer Fun Activities How can you keep the children occupied during the break? Join us, along with Sister Christine, to discuss summer activities available to families in Tower Hamlets.

18th July: Parent Pay Come and learn how to use the system. Registration, making payments... Let us show you how to do it!

What have we been up to recently?

A group of Year 5 children went to the O2 Arena to watch the British Basketball Final on Sunday, 19th May.

Year 6 enjoyed some healthy fruit platters as a reward for their hard work and diligence during their SATs tests. Well done, Year 6: you did us proud.

Year 6 also went on a School Journey – learning how to work as a big team and as a little team in the open air in Norfolk. It was great to experience nature and enjoy a different environment for the week.

And, of course, many more trips and visits were enjoyed, and visitors to the school were welcomed.

Next week is 100% Attendance Week

Why do we take attendance so seriously at Woolmore?

- Coming to school every day is the starting point to receiving a good education.
- Being here on time ensures you are ready to learn as soon as the school day begins.

Next week all children who come to school on time every day will receive an armband on Friday morning, to say "Well done".

And all classes which have 100% attendance for the week will receive a special fruit platter to enjoy.

Woolmore Windows: there's an art to it!

This month, we have an artist from Bow Arts working with each class. They are sketching the amazing range of views from our "Woolmore Windows".

And it's not just children who are recording what they see. We are holding a Bow Arts Woolmore Window Parent Workshop on Friday, 12th July. For more information, talk to the Family Support Team – or sign up in the main office.
